

General Data Protection Act 2018
Stourbridge Photographic Society (SPS)
Policy Statement

Overall storage of the members contact details shall be the responsibility of the SPS Data Controller with copies of membership details being stored securely in suitable locations.

Members contact details may be used by Officers of the Committee to contact said member directly on club business.

Group emails will be sent in such a way as to prevent members email addresses being seen by other members. This may be via Benchmark email or by Bcc email.

Members contact details will only be used for SPS related correspondence and will not be passed on to third parties for sales or marketing purposes although information from third parties may be passed on to you.

Members submitting images for club competitions are deemed to have given permission for those images to be used in interclub competitions unless permission has been withdrawn by the author.

Members contact details will not be shared with other members or with an outside contact unless permission has been given directly by that member.

Members of SPS who notify us they are leaving, plus members who fail to renew within a reasonable timeframe will have their contact details removed.

Members may withdraw permission for their contact details to be used at any stage by notifying the Data Controller. Members need to be aware that this will result in SPS being unable to contact them in future.
